Jennie Butterworth

CEO

Prior to becoming CEO at Envision, Jennie was a Director of Policy and Public Affairs for a large national youth charity using her private sector experience of government relations to help some of the most disadvantaged young people in society. She has contributed to a wide range of policy issues and was on the original group convened by David Cameron to develop the concept of a National Citizen Service.

Anthony Rigby

Head of Finance & Resources

Anthony is responsible for our operational functions including finance, HR, IT and governance. Prior to Envision his expertise lies primarily in finance with Save the Children and Keep Britain Tidy following twelve years in the financial services sector for KPMG and Ernst & Young.

Fay Crowther

Head of Programmes & Impact

Fay Crowther studied Geography at Oxford University and has worked as a Geography teacher and Head of Department in inner city London Schools. She developed an interest in supporting teacher development whilst working at Teach First as a Leadership Development Officer and coach. She moved into Envision to apply this expertise to support young people to develop employability skills and realise their capacity as change-makers.

Damian Chapman

Head of Fundraising

Since graduating from the University of Hull with a degree in Business and Computing, Damian has spent the last 10 years fundraising at charities large and small in youth, LGBT support, and animal welfare. Before Envision, Damian headed up the corporate Fundraising team at Battersea Dogs & Cats Home, and secured partnerships with O2, Match.com, and Berkeley Group. When Fundraising with Envision, he is a lecturer at the Institute of Fundraising Academy, and is a member of the local Rotary club.
